

HIS WORD IS STILL HIS PROMISE

(Chuck Girard)

Well, if you wake up on a rainy mornin'

And you see clouds that darken the sky

And it makes you feel like you're all alone in this world

And your friends have seemed to desert you

And you start to feel sorry for you

You have a choice, you can raise your voice to you know who

And you can close that rainy view window

And you can find that dusty old book

And you can open up to any page and take a look

Because his word is still his promise

And his promise is there for you

And when nothing else can do the trick

His promise will see you through

F (Bb/F) (F) (F) (modulate) (Ab) (Db/Ab)

His promise is there for you

His promise will see you through

His promise is all you need

All you gotta do is believe

Well, if you ask, He's going to answer

And if you knock, He'll open the door

But if you never ask, then you'll find it hard to receive
And if today you don't feel like a Christian
It doesn't really really mean a thing
Your faith is a fact not a feelin' but you've got to believe

And even when you can't find the emotion
The only way you'll weather the storm
Is to know that He means what He says no matter how you may feel

Because his word is still his promise
And his promise is there for you
And when nothing else can do the trick
His promise will see you through (Bb/F) (F) (Bb) (F) (Bb)

La La..La La La La...La La La La...La La La La La

©2016 Sea Of Glass Music/ASCAP