

SOMETHIN' SUPERNATURAL

(Chuck Girard)

E
What does it matter for me to say I knew you when?

I know you now and you know I knew you then

A
I'd say you're different now and yes, your life has changed

E
Something's surely different, your whole thinking's re-arranged

B7

But I just can't accept,

A7

E

(E6 E7 E6)

You say you owe it all to somethin' supernatural

E
I used to know you when you'd go from bar to bar

Lookin' for a thrill with some potential movie star

A
To take her home with you and try to get it on

E
But now you tell me that this type of life is gone

B7

But I just can't accept,

A7

E

You say you owe it all to somethin' supernatural

A
I get a feelin' that you're really on the level

E

But I just cannot believe that it could happen to you

A
This talk of Jesus sounds so soft and sentimental

F#7

B7

And I just cannot believe that it is really, really true

E
But yet I see that you no longer are a cussin'

You don't read Playboy and you shun the liquor store

A
And though you're still my friend, I don't know how to treat you

E

In many ways you're just no fun anymore

B7

But I just can't accept,

A7

E

You say you owe it all to somethin' supernatural

A

When you explain it to me, you know I feel the tension

E

'Cause much of what you say is just beyond my comprehension

B7

Still I'm beginning to feel

A7

E

The pull of somethin' supernatural

©2016 Sea Of Glass Music/ASCAP